ABOUT MATTHEW

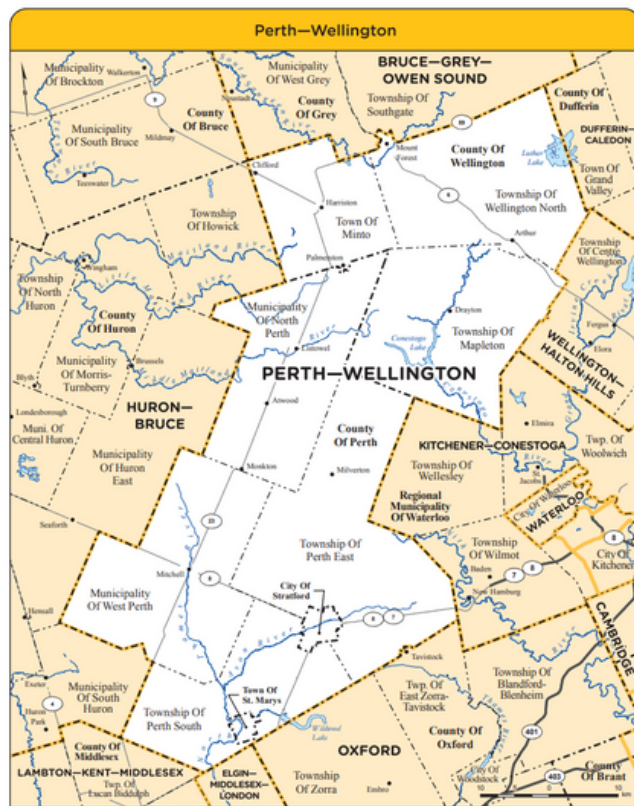

Matthew grew up on his family's dairy farm just north of Harriston. From a young age, he was instilled with a strong work ethic and the importance of service to one's family, community, and country.

In addition to working on the family farm, Matthew worked in the hospitality sector throughout high school. He worked in Student Services while attending the University of Guelph and was an assistant to an ambassador while attending grad school.

More recently, Matthew has worked for both John Nater, Member of Parliament for Perth-Wellington, and Randy Pettapiece, Member of Provincial Parliament for Perth-Wellington at separate times. He currently works for an education non-profit focused on Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics (STEM) and entrepreneurship. Matthew is an active member of the community serving on multiple local boards and committees.
