ABOUT TREVOR

Trevor is a lifelong resident of Chatham-Kent-Leamington who served his community with distinction for over twenty years. Trevor currently serves as a municipal Councillor in Leamington. Trevor previously served as a police officer and worked closely alongside service groups and communities in the agricultural space. Inspired by his unique experiences in law enforcement, his passion for his communities, and a desire to support innovation and food security, Trevor transitioned his career to a business executive role to advocate for Ontario's agriculture sector and ensure it remains a world leader.
